SCHOOL ELECTION SET SEPTEMBER 1

NEEDED FACILITIES ASSURED CITY FIREMEN

Fire Station, Fire Truck, Assured In Decision Of Taxpayers by 158 Margin

Cameron will have a new fire station, fire truck and other facilities. Bonds in the amount of $55,000.00 were voted in Tuesday's election by a 394 to 236 count.

The 158 vote margin assured the city of a number of facilities it has greatly needed for several decades. The building of the municipal building at the present site of the fire station was definitely disagreeable to 236 taxpayers.

It was presumed that construction would get underway soon since plans for the building have already been presented to the council. The opposing side was in favor of a fire truck and other city needs but locating the municipal building at the present site of the fire station was the big quesion.

SS Representative Scheduled Here Tuesday August 14

Every week throughout the year the Austin office of the Social Security Administration sends one of their representatives to the larger towns in the Centex area. "This is actual community service," stated James B. Marley, manager. During the third week in July our representatives accented a total of 66 claims of all types from the citizens of some eight towns in this area. Better than half of the claims filed were by persons who would have actually lost some benefits had they not been contacted and acquainted with their rights and benefits to social security benefits. Since the Social Security Law was amended and liberalized last year it is increasingly important for both wage-earners as well as self-employed persons to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the changed law. We know of no better way to get full information than from one visits your community. He will be of our representatives when he next in Cameron on Tuesday, August 14th, at the Department of Public Welfare, at 1:00 P. M.

Virginia Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown who had a tonsilectomy at St. Edward Hospital a few days ago is resting at home, will soon resume her duties with the Metal Goods Corporaaion in Houston.

Texas Committee To Combat Inflation

As a result of a state-wide meeting of civic minded Texans, the Texas Committee To Combat Inflation was formed this month in Houston to give the people of Texas informatin on the causes, effects and a cure for the current inflationary trend.

Mr. Lamar Fleming, Jr., President of Anderson, Clayton & Company, Houston, and General Preston A. Weatherred said, "Action against inflation should become immediately a number one activity of every American. Inflation is a subject that is close to all of us today. If we are going to stop it—before it's too late—we have to understand it. It is too serious a problem to be solved by ineffective, unintelligible, and unenforceable government controls."

"This committee," Mr. Fleming added, "will be composed of the outstanding leaders from all over the state, representing all business, professional and educational groups. A planning and coordinating committee has been appointed to plan the activities for a community wide-anti-inflation campaign. This committee, with General Weatherred as its chairman, is presently engaged in a series of meetings formulating methods for the immediate dissemination of information. "

General Weatherred said, "This committee will devote all its energy, time and facilities to this one program. All th estate associations have been asked to work with us and all have pledged their support."

"Mr. Fleming and I have been meeting with selected groups of business leaders since May of this year working out details and policies of this committee. An organizational plan has now been adopted by these business leaders from all over the state; materials have been gathered and personnnel has been trained—in fact, no detail has been overlooked in our desire to reach every person in Texas in this most important undertaking."

Enforcement Survey Scheduled By O.P.S.

Following instructions from Edward P. Morgan of Washington, D. C., assistant OPS director in charge of enforcement, the Houston District Office of Price Stabilization is conducting a survey to determine compliance on the part of retail dealers in apparel, furniture, household wares, radios, television and related fields in the filing of price charts under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The survey is being conducted by enforcement investigators in the 38 Southeast Texas counties comprising the Houston OPS district, Rex. L. Poston, district enforcement director, announced.

The OPS announcement said that retail dealers covered by CPR 7 should have filed their price charts by May 31.

While a great number of retailers have filed the required charts, the survey thus far indicates that there are many who have not complied with the government price regulation, Mr. Poston explained.

According to information received from Mr. Morgan, the Department of Justice has instructed United States attorneys to institute suits to compel filing of charts in all cases where retailers fail to heed warning letters within the grace period set by OPS, the district enforcement director said.

Price charts must be filed with the Houston District OPS, 2309 Austin Street, Houston, in order for retailers covered by CPR 7 to comply, the OPS pointed out.

A Tribute-- To Our Grocers
"He knows his groceries". How familiar that expression is. Yet few of us stop to consider that the corner grocery man, our grocery man, is one of the most important persons in our lives. He is a fine, value concious merchant. He is on the job early and late. He serves you patiently no matter how difficult your food buying demands may be. His life is devoted to bringing you and your family good, nutritious things to eat, when you want them and at fair prices. This city would be an unhappy place were it not for the almost countless Grocers who keep us well fed and contented. We salute the integrity and industry of these excellent American Citizens!

SURE, a trim new Buick makes a mighty pretty picture when you see it in your driveway, or watch it wheel by.
But if you could get a mechanic's-eye view of this big, broad beauty as it sits on a lift, you'd see an impressive picture of rugged brawn that makes good-to-look-at Buicks give such a good account of themselves on the road.
You'd see the full-length torque-tube drive that firms the whole power relay system, and steadies your going like a giant hand beneath you.
You'd see big sturdy wheels with really wide rims that provide surer footing, give better car control, make tires last longer.
You'd see all four wheels cushioned by stout coil springs that are completely service-free, practically breakproof – and a principal reason for the ever-level Buick ride.
But mainly, you'd see the massive foundation that backbones every Buick – the deep, wide, X-member frame that's rugged as a rock, and a brute for strength.
So when you look at the beauty of a Buick—the big mileage power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the moneysaving ability of its Dynaflow Drive*—don't overlook the tough stamina that goes with it all.
And don't overlook the fact that a new '51 Buick, with all its heft, costs less per pound than any other car of comparable size, structure and weight.
Better come see us first chance you get—and find out what a smart buy this is—from every angle.
Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father and husband, Tom J. Mitcham who was killed in an accident four years ago August 4, 1948.

Gone is the face we love so dear or to hear the voice we love to hear.
Too far away for sight or to hear but not too far for thought to reach when evening shadows are falling and we sit in quiet alone, to our hearts there comes a longing. If he could only come home.

Friends may say we have forgotten when at times they see us smile but little they know the heartache our smiles hide all the while.

Wife, Sons and Daughters.

Social Security Office Has Free Booklet On Self-Emloyment Status

"Numerious inquires are still being received from self-empliyed persons concerning their status under the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act," according to information received from James B. Marley, manager of the Austin Social security office. "Self-employed persons, with certain exceptions, have been covered by the law since January 1, 1951," earnings from most commercial establishments are covered, earnings from self-employment as a farmer, doctor, dentist,, lawyer, optomertrist, veterinarian, architect, funeral director, and a few other professions are still excepted from old-age and survivors insurance protection. The self-employed do not report themselves on the same quarterly social security tax returns they file for their employees but will make a social security report once a year as a part of their income tax return.

The social security office, in Austin ,has a free booklet which explains the coverage of the self-employed, and also contains a full list of the professions that are still excepted from coverage as self-employment, and will mail this booklet to anyone, upon request.

Price Controls Are Basic Objectives Of Truman's Report

The basic objective of price controls now is to hold the general price line, President Truman states in his economic report to Congress, according to Charles H. Winerich, Jr., Houston District Ofice of Price Stabilization director, points out.

Mr. Winerich quoted the president's report as declaring:

"Ceiling prices should not be raised except where essential to provide adequate production incentives to business, or to correct clearly inequitable situations. As a general rule, price increases should not be approved, even where some costs have risen, if the industry is earning a fair and equitable level of profits.

"Just as some upward adjustments of some prices will be needed, some rollbacks will be needed in selected cases; for example, where prices or profits are excessively high. This is the practical way to maintain adequate flexibility in the price structure, while holding their general price line. This requires legislation which strengthens, not weakens, price control."

On the subject of the present price situation facing the American people, the president's report said.

"The easing of the inflationary pressures since spring has been due partly to larger civilian supplies. It has also reflected high taxes, credit restraints, and the application of price and wage controls early this year. Moreover, as the military situation improved, many consumers switched from frantic buying to cautious buying, while businesses felt that some inventories were excessive and curtailed their orders.

"These recent developments have led some people to think that the inflationary trend is ended. This is a dangerous assumption. We cannot accept it as a guide to national policy.

"The fundamental fact is that we must increase the annual rate of national security expenditures by about 30 billion dollars during the next year. In order to produce more airplanes, tanks and other munitions, we must continue the cutbacks which have been made in the production of consumer and investment goods, and possibly make further cuts.

"Inflation stimulates the production of many non-essential goods, thus pulling resources away from essential production. It favors some groups at the expense of others. It lifts the cost of national defense, and shifts the burden on those least able to bear it. Inflation impairs the value of people's savings, and undermines their willingness to save.

"Winning the battle against inflation is an essential element in our struggle for peace," the report to Congress said.
